2000 Nebraska Baseball (51-17, 21-9 Big 12)

2000 Huskers Turn In Banner Season

Nebraska Finishes Three Runs Shy of First CWS Appearance

In the first 111 years of Nebraska baseball, none compared to the magical season that the Huskers produced in 2000.

Under the direction of third-year Head Coach Dave Van Horn, the Huskers proved to the nation that Nebraska baseball had arrived as one of the nation's elite baseball programs.

Van Horn directed the Huskers to their most successful season ever, as Nebraska won a school-record 51 games, a second straight Big 12 Tournament title, and a first-ever NCAA regional title, before finishing just three runs shy of making the school's first-ever College World Series appearance in Omaha.

NU's success came behind the most balanced pitching staff in the country, posting the nation's best team earned-run average, a sparkling 3.13 mark. Sophomore Shane Komine headlined the staff, earning Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors and first-team All-America honors from USA Today/Baseball Weekly, Collegiate Baseball News, The Sporting News and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association. He finished the season with an 11-4 record, a 2.24 ERA, setting school records for single-season strikeouts (159) and innings pitched (124.2). He was also one of 12 finalists for the Dick Howser Trophy, given to the nation's top collegiate player.

Senior catcher Justin Cowan also garnered national laurels, earning third-team All-America honors from Collegiate Baseball and finishing as one of three finalists for the Johnny Bench Award, given to the nation's top collegiate catcher.

Nebraska finished with a school record seven All-Big 12 selections, including freshman of the year Matt Hopper and newcomer of the year Dan Johnson.

Nebraska's amazing season had a rocky start. But Van Horn's Huskers turned heads around the nation, recovering from an 18-11 start, including a 7-8 start in the Big 12 Conference, to win 24 of their final 27 regular season games.

Nebraska's gritty senior class rallied the Cornhuskers for an incredible run that included a span of 15 consecutive victories during the month of April, and a Big-12 record 13 straight wins in league play to vault from seventh in the Big 12 standings to a runner-up finish, capped by a series win over top-10 Texas in Austin in the final Big 12 series of the season.

The dramatic turnaround started after dropping three games to 17th-ranked Baylor in Waco, Texas, by a combined four runs.

"After we got swept by Baylor, we knew we were running out time," Van Horn said. "We knew we were better than an 18-11 team, but we just weren't getting it done on the field. At that point, the seniors did a great job pulling the team together to make a run in April."

While Komine and the pitching staff had incredible success, the Husker offense took over during the month of April, drubbing opponents for a .387 team batting average in 21 contests, with four Huskers hitting over .400 during that span, including Hopper and Johnson, who hit .449 and .441 respectively, cranking out a combined 23 home runs.

The two each finished the season with 21 home runs, finishing two shy of matching Ken Harvey's record of 23 set in 1999.

One year after winning the Big 12 Tournament in 1999 as a No. 5 seed, Nebraska entered the 2000 tournament as the No. 2 seed. Despite already having an NCAA Tournament berth locked up with its second-place conference finish, the defending tournament champions wanted to set the tone for the postseason with a strong showing at the conference tournament in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Missouri, the seventh seed and a team the Huskers had swept earlier in the season, shocked Nebraska by tagging the Huskers for 12 runs en route to a 12-10 victory in NU's opening game. But Nebraska rallied for four straight wins in the losers' bracket, defeating Oklahoma State and No. 22 Oklahoma twice to advance to the championship game against Big 12 champion Baylor.

The Husker offense exploded against the fifth-ranked Bears for an 11-3 victory, making Nebraska the first team to win the Big 12 Tournament in back-to-back seasons, and the first out of the loser's bracket in the eight-team format.

1999 Big 12 Finish:	Fifth
1999 Big 12 Tournament:	4-0, 1st
1999 NCAA Tournament:	1-2

The win helped the Big Red secure its first No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament at the Minneapolis Regional. NU's NCAA Tournament berth was just the fifth in school history, but the second in as many years under Van Horn.

The Huskers scraped their way to a 2-1 victory over Butler in the opening game, but suffered a devastating blow when Komine was struck in the jaw with a line drive in the eighth inning, fracturing his jaw in two places.

With Komine in the hospital, Nebraska returned to action after getting rained out on the second day of action to hand host Minnesota a 4-1 loss. Wichita State, needing two wins over the Huskers to win the regional, was overmatched as Nebraska locked up its first-ever regional title in an 8-1 victory.

With the state of Nebraska in a frenzy over a potential College World Series appearance, Nebraska put its season on the line in the school's first Super Regional matchup in Palo Alto, Calif., against Stanford, the second-ranked team in the country and a nine-time CWS qualifier.

Nebraska used a solid relief performance from sophomore R.D. Speihs to hand the Cardinal a 7-3 loss in the first game, as he scattered six hits in 6 2/3 innings. The Huskers broke open a 3-2 lead with a four-run eighth inning to claim the game, handing Jason Young his first loss in 14 straight decisions.

In the second game of the series, Stanford All-American Justin Wayne shut down the Husker offense, as the Cardinal scored six runs in the final four innings to win, 7-1, after the game was tied 1-1 through five innings.

In the deciding third game, Nebraska rallied from a 3-0 deficit to pull within one run at 3-2. After three scoreless innings, Stanford scored two runs in the eighth off a two-run home run from Edmond Muth. Cowan gave the Huskers a glimmer of hope with a solo home run in the bottom of the ninth, before Stanford, which advanced to the national championship game, closed the door on the most successful season in Nebraska baseball history.

Six Huskers Drafted, Wiles Signs as Free Agent

Six Husker baseball players were selected in the Major League Baseball Draft, June 5-6. Seniors Jamal Strong, Adam Shabala, Justin Cowan and junior pitcher Andy Bent were all drafted on the first day, while seniors Trevor Bullock and Scott Fries were drafted on the second day. Senior Chad Wiles was not drafted, but signed as a free agent with the Seattle Mariners.

Strong (Altadena, Calif.), a senior center fielder, was the Huskers' highest drafted player, going in the sixth round as the 176th overall pick to the Seattle Mariners, Seattle's third pick of the draft. Strong led the Huskers in stolen bases the past two seasons, stealing 34 in 1999 and 35 in 2000, for a two-year school record of 69 on 81 attempts. He hit .301 this season after hitting .346 as a junior and scored 125 runs in two seasons, while driving in 61. He also drew 63 walks. In the field he was outstanding, committing just four errors in two seasons.

Shabala (Streator, Ill.) was drafted by the San Francisco Giants in the 10th round as the 301st overall pick (San Francisco's seventh pick) after hitting .338 in 2000. Shabala received contact lenses at the mid-point of the season and raised his average from .234 through the first 34 games of the season, to hit a team-best .436 in the final 34 games. The right fielder tied the school single-season record with a perfect 1.000 fielding percentage on 121 opportunities. He also led the team with five outfield assists.

Bent (Beatrice, Neb.) was selected by the Atlanta Braves in the 16th round as the 490th overall pick. The hard-throwing righty threw just 11 innings for Nebraska, but compiled a 3.27 earned-run average and a perfect 2-0 record.

Cowan (Tumwater, Wash.), a senior catcher and third-team All-American, was drafted by the Kansas City Royals in the 20th round as the 584th overall pick. Cowan, one of 10 semifinalists for the Johnny Bench Award, given to the nation's top collegiate catcher, led the Huskers with a .371 average and led the Big 12 Conference in hits (89), doubles (23), RBI (74) and finished third in total bases (142). He holds the school's two-year record for doubles, cranking out 44, including 23 this season.

Fries (Dannebrog, Neb.), a left-handed senior pitcher was drafted by the Chicago Cubs in the 25th round as the 733rd overall pick. Fries made 13 appearances and compiled a perfect 5-0 record in his final season, holding a 3.80 ERA in 42.2 innings. As a junior, Fries threw 100.2 innings, becoming one of just six pitchers in school history to throw 100-plus innings in a single season.

Bullock (Lincoln, Neb.), a left-handed senior pitcher, was drafted by the Philadelphia Phillies in the 27th round as the 805th overall pick after ranking ninth nationally with a 2.13 earned-run average. The Lincoln native went 6-1 after transferring from the University of Nebraska-

Three Huskers Playing in Cape Cod Summer League

For the first time since 1995, Nebraska is represented in the Cape Cod League, considered the most prestigious amateur summer baseball league in the country. Husker sophomores Adam Stern, John Cole and R.D. Spiehs were selected to play for the Harwich Mariners, based in Harwich Port, Mass. Stern is off to an impressive start, hitting a league-best .435 through the first 13 games and ranks third in stolen bases with eight. The league's season began June 13 and will conclude regular-season play on Aug. 6.

Huskers Land Four-First Team All-Big 12 Selections

Nebraska cleaned up on all-conference honors this season, earning four first-team selections, NU's most first-team selections since 1966, when the Huskers had four Big Eight honorees. Only the 1966 and 1958 squads managed four first-team all-conference awards.

Shane Komine, last year's freshman of the year, is Nebraska's first Big 12 Player of the Year and NU's first conference player of the year since Darin Erstad was named Co-MVP of the Big Eight in 1995. For the first time in circuit history, the Freshman and Newcomer-of-the-Year honors were split into Player and Pitcher designations because of a solid amount of young talent. Nebraska designated hitter Matt Hopper was named the Freshman Player of the Year, while Freshman Pitcher of the Year was Baylor relief ace Zane Carlson. Dan Johnson was named the Newcomer Player of the Year, while Newcomer Pitcher-of-the-Year laurels went to Charlie Thamnes of Texas.

Husker Freshmen Collect Postseason Honors

Freshmen Matt Hopper and Jamie Rodrigue each turned in outstanding seasons and collected several prestigious honors. Hopper was named a third-team All-American by the American Baseball Coaches Association after earning Big 12 Freshman Player-of-the-Year honors and First-Team All-Big 12 accolades from Big 12 coaches, the Dallas Morning News and the Austin American Statesman. He was also named to the USA Today/ Baseball Weekly, Collegiate Baseball News and Baseball America Freshman All-America teams after hitting .352 and cranking out a Big 12 Freshman record 21 home runs, the most by any freshman in the country.

Rodrigue was a second-team All-Big 12 selection by the Dallas Morning News and the Austin American Statesman and was an honorable-mention honoree by the Big 12 coaches. He was named to the Collegiate Baseball News and Baseball America Freshman All-America teams. A native of St. Clair, Mo., Rodrigue led the Big 12 with a school record four complete game shutouts en route to a 9-4 record. He had a 2.64 ERA, allowing just 22 earned runs in 88.2 innings.

The two are the fifth and sixth Huskers to be named freshman All-Americans, with Hopper the first Husker to be named to the USA Today/ Baseball Weekly team. Other Husker freshman All-Americans included Darin Petersen (1992), Jed Dalton (1992), Todd Sears (1995) and Shane Komine (1999).

Cole Named First-Team Academic All-District

Sophomore left fielder/second baseman John Cole was named to the 2000 GTE Academic All-District VII Baseball Team, announced May 10. Cole owns a 3.75 grade-point average and hit .323 with 41 runs for the year.

A 2000 National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association Preseason All-America selection, Cole finished third on the team with 16 stolen bases on 20 attempts.

The Kanata, Ontario, native finished the 1999 season batting .396 as a freshman - good for second on the team.

Will Bolt Named Minneapolis Regional MVP

Sophomore second baseman Will Bolt's outstanding play in the field and at the plate earned him tournament MVP honors at the Minneapolis Regional last weekend. Bolt led all tournament participants with a .545 average, collecting six hits in 11 at bats. He also anchored Nebraska's infield, as the Huskers turned four double plays in three games. Bolt, who was hitting .263 through the first 23 games, raised his average to .350 by season's end.

Bolt was joined on the all-tournament team by pitchers Shane Komine and Trevor Bullock, along with catcher Justin Cowan, center fielder Jamal Strong and designated hitter Matt Hopper.

Nebraska Finishes with Nation's Lowest ERA

Nebraska's pitching staff made dramatic improvements over the past few seasons and emerged this year as one of the nation's elite groups. The Huskers led the Big 12 with a 3.31 earned-run average in conference games and finished with the nation's lowest ERA, a 3.13 mark. Three Huskers finished among the top 50 pitchers in ERA (Trevor Bullock, 9th; Shane Komine, 11th; Jamie Rodriguez, 27th).

Sophomore Shane Komine, Nebraska's ace, finished with a 2.24 ERA and 159 strikeouts, second-most nationally. The Big 12 Player of the Year and First-Team All-American, Komine (11-4) ended his season with a loss to Stanford in the Super Regional as Nebraska fell to Justin Wayne, the No. 5 pick in the Major League Baseball Draft. Komine threw in the Super Regional despite having his jaw broken by a line drive against Butler in the NCAA Minneapolis Regional, where he struck out 12 and allowed just two hits in 7 1/3 innings.

The outing erased his worst outing of the year, where he allowed seven earned runs in the first game of the Big 12 Tournament against Missouri. Prior to that he entered the Big 12 Tournament as one of the hottest pitchers in the country, posting a 6-0 record in his previous six appearances, with a sparkling 1.08 ERA.

Komite set school records for single-season strikeouts (159) and innings pitched (124.2), while tying the school's single-game record with 17 strikeouts this season. He threw six complete games, and struck out double-digit batters in nine of his last 14 appearances.

One of Nebraska's best additions was freshman Jamie Rodriguez, a 6-0 lefty from St. Clair, Mo. He went 9-4 in his rookie campaign with a 2.64 ERA in 88.2 innings. Named a Freshman All-American by Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball, Rodriguez was the first Husker to throw four shutouts in a season and one of just two NU players to throw four in a career. Komine and Rodriguez combined to earn four Big 12 Pitcher-of-the-Week awards this season (Komine honored three times), with Komine grabbing national pitcher-of-the-week honors twice.

Nebraska's success also hinged on the late-season heroics of senior Trevor Bullock, who finished with the team's lowest ERA, a 2.13 mark. The transfer from Nebraska-Kearney, went 6-1 in 19 appearances and broke into Nebraska's starting lineup by the end of the season.

Nebraska had a number of weapons out of the bullpen, including sophomore Thom Ott. A transfer from James Madison University, Ott went 2-1 with six saves and a 1.26 ERA in 35.2 innings. He did not allow an earned run in 22 of 24 relief appearances.

R.D. Spiehs' second season on the mound came after making a freshman record 23 appearances in 1999. The Grand Island, Neb., native picked up where he left off with 19 appearances as a sophomore. He lowered his ERA from 6.27 as a freshman to 3.23. Spiehs went 8-2 to improve to 13-3 in his career, picking up seven of his eight wins in relief.

As a staff, Nebraska struck out a school record 484 batters while allowing just 167 walks, a 2.90-to-1 ratio. Nebraska held opponents to a .240 batting average.

Komine Sweeps Conference Honors

Honolulu, Hawaii native Shane Komine (pronounced co-ME-nay) had the most decorated season in Nebraska baseball history in 2000. A nearly unanimous first-team All-America selection, Komine earned first-team honors from USA Today/Baseball Weekly, Collegiate Baseball, the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, The Sporting News, and the American Baseball Coaches Association.

He also swept Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors from Big 12 coaches, the Dallas Morning News and the Austin American Statesman.

The First-Team All-Big 12 selection returned to action in the Super Regional against national runnerup Stanford after suffering a broken jaw in his previous outing against Butler in the NCAA Regional. He led the Huskers with 17 starts, throwing 124.2 innings and holding opponents to a meager .200 batting average. Komine surrendered just 31 earned runs and 31 walks, carrying an astounding 5.1-to-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio. Komine allowed just 26 extra-base hits, including six home runs, three of which were surrendered against Missouri in the Big 12 Tournament.

Entering the Big 12 Tournament, Komine had an incredible run, winning six straight starts and compiling a 1.08 ERA in those six contests, with shutouts against then-No. 6 Texas on May 6 and Iowa State on April 28.

Komite, second nationally with 159 total strikeouts (CS-Fullerton's Adam Johnson finished with 166), set Nebraska's single-season strikeout record in 124.2 innings this season, breaking two-time All-American Troy Brohawn's record of 123 strikeouts in 1993. Brohawn, a 6-1 left-hander, set the mark as a sophomore in 111 innings en route to a perfect 13-0 record on the mound.

One of just four 10-game winners in school history, Komine stands alone in second place for single-season victories with 11 and was two shy of tying Brohawn's single-season record of 13. He surpassed Brohawn's record for innings on the hill in a single season in his appearance against Butler.

Komite put together some of the best performances in school history as a sophomore, tying a school record with 17 strikeouts in a win over Kansas (April 8), only to follow it up with 16 strikeouts in a complete-game win over Missouri (April 14). Against the Jayhawks, he struck out eight batters through the first three innings and finished with his fifth double-digit strikeout game of the season. Komine finished strong against the Tigers, striking out the last five batters he faced.

Following his school-record performance against Kansas, Komine was named Collegiate Baseball's Louisville Slugger National Pitcher of the Week and the Phillips 66 Big 12 Pitcher of the Week. He was named national pitcher of the week twice and earned the conference pitcher-of-the-week award three times during the year, as he led the Big 12 with 12.3 strikeouts per nine innings in league games.

Komite is 17-6 in his Husker career with 238 strikeouts, second on NU's all-time strikeout chart.

Komite's success is even more remarkable considering his back problems as a freshman. After battling back spasms that limited him to just 5.1 innings in the final 16 games in 1999, he changed his training routine in the offseason to get dramatic results. He has recorded eight or more strikeouts in 12 of his 17 appearances this season.

Cowan Caps Senior Season as Bench Award Finalist

Team captain Justin Cowan capped an incredible senior campaign by finishing as one of three finalists for the inaugural Johnny Bench Award, given to the nation's top collegiate catcher.

Named a third-team All-American by Collegiate Baseball, he rebounded from arthroscopic knee surgery to repair a torn lateral meniscus on Tuesday, May 9 to rejoin the Huskers during the postseason after missing eight games.

A unanimous first-team All-Big 12 selection, Cowan shouldered much of the load for the Huskers at the plate, both defensively and offensively. The Huskers' starting catcher was a model of consistency, hitting a team-best .371, the second-best average on the team and second-best in the Big 12. Cowan posted a 19-game hitting streak this season, the seventh longest in school history, which came to an end in the first regular-season game against Baylor. Cowan was superb during the month of March, hitting .429 in Nebraska's 18 games with 10 doubles and a .597 slugging percentage.

Cowan, who led the Big 12 with 13 doubles in league play, also led the conference in hits (51), and runs batted in (40), and was third in total bases (79), trailing teammates Dan Johnson and Matt Hopper. Cowan hit 23 doubles for the year, the fourth-best single-season total in school history. He finished his two-year career with 44 for is career, a two-year school record and tied for fourth most all-time in school history.

Rodrigue Nearly Nabs Record Fifth Shutout of Season

Jamie Rodrigue, a freshman left-handed pitcher from St. Clair, Mo., had an impressive freshman campaign for Nebraska. Tabbed a Freshman by Collegiate Baseball and Baseball America, he compiled a 9-4 record and a 2.64 earned-run average this season, including a 5-1 mark and a 2.88 ERA in Big 12 play.

Rodrigue has accomplished what only one other pitcher in Nebraska history has ever done -- throw four shutouts in a career, and Rodrigue's all came in his rookie season. He broke the single-season record for shutouts with his 12-0 victory over Iowa State on Sunday, April 30. He was two outs away from handing Wichita State its first shutout in over 300 games at the NCAA Regional, which would have made him NU's all-time leader in shutouts.

The Nebraska offense gave Rodrigue tremendous support. The Huskers averaged 11.1 runs per game in his first 10 starts. The school record holder for wins by a freshman, Nebraska posted a 13-3 record in Rodrigue-started games. His first two shutouts made school history, coming in back-to-back blankings of Kansas State and Oklahoma, throwing 14 consecutive scoreless innings. He is the only NU freshman to shut out three conference schools in a single season.

His success shouldn't come as a surprise as the first-team all-state pitcher went 10-3 as a senior at St. Clair High School, striking out 138 batters in 80 innings of work. He was also a threat at the plate, hitting .523 with 12 home runs and 50 RBI, earning first-team all-state designated hitter/utility player honors.

Strong Sets Two-Year Stolen Base Record

Jamal Strong, a 5-10, 175-pound center fielder out of Altadena, Calif. (Citrus College), made a name for himself in the field and on the basepaths during his senior season.

He put together an impressive streak of reaching base in 79 consecutive games before it was snapped on April 8, when he failed to reach base for the first time in his career as a starter.

Despite missing nine games with a separated shoulder, Strong led the Huskers with 35 stolen bases and finished his career with 69, a two-year school record and fourth on the all-time school charts.

His 35 stolen bases was eighth-best on the single-season charts, bettering his 1999 total of 34.

Strong's numbers were incredible. He played in 111 games at Nebraska and started 108. Strong reached base in 103 of 108 games as a starter and all but six overall.

Strong's presence on the base paths made opposing pitchers and catchers sweat when he was in the Husker lineup. Strong, who holds the ninth-longest hitting streak in school history (17-games from 1999-2000), led the Big 12 with 16 stolen bases in league games and was second with 35 thefts on 42 attempts this season.

Dave Van Horn Leads Nebraska to First Super Regional

Dave Van Horn has emerged as one of the nation's top young coaches. Hired in January 1998, Van Horn has guided Nebraska from the depths of the conference standings prior to his arrival (10th in 1997), to its best season in the 111-year history of the program.

In Van Horn's debut season, he led the Huskers to a 24-20 record with a seventh-place finish in the Big 12, playing for a spot in the Big 12 Tournament going into the final week of play, despite being hired just 35 days before the beginning of the season.

The Huskers not only qualified for the Big 12 Tournament in 1999, but won the tournament championship, marking the school's first conference title since 1950. Nebraska finished with a 42-18 record, and its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 14 seasons.

Van Horn put the Huskers on the college map in 2000, leading the Big Red to its first Super Regional and within one win of its first College World Series appearance. Nebraska raced to the front of the Big 12 pack this season, posting a second-place league finish, NU's best since 1982. Van Horn then did the improbable, leading the Huskers through the losers' bracket to a second straight Big 12 Tournament title. This year's team led the powerful Big 12 in batting average, ERA, home runs, stolen bases and ranked second in fielding percentage.

In his 11th season as a head coach, Van Horn has a career record of 488-203 including a record of 117-55 at Nebraska. Van Horn coached three seasons at Northwestern State in Natchitoches, La. (1995-97), where he compiled a 106-65 (.620) overall record. Before coaching for the Demons, he led Central Missouri State to a 51-11 record and the NCAA Division II national title in 1994.

In six seasons at the Division I level, he has a 221-120 record (.648). Van Horn, 39, also ranks among the best for coaches aged 45 or younger. He ranks 16th with 271 wins.

Before becoming a head coach, Van Horn was an assistant coach for three seasons at Arkansas, helping the Razorbacks to two College World Series appearances (1985 and 1987). On the field, he was just as impressive, earning All-Southwest Conference honors as an infielder for the Razorbacks. He was the team's MVP and was drafted in the 10th round of the 1982 MLB Draft by the Atlanta Braves, spending three seasons in the organization.

NU Puts Together One of School's Longest Win Streaks

Nebraska's impressive finish during the last half of the season was sparked by a 15-game winning streak that spanned from April 7 to April 24, beginning with a win over Northwest Missouri State and ending with a loss to Wisconsin-Milwaukee on April 25. The streak was the third-longest in school history, the longest in 18 seasons and the longest ever in the Big 12.

Of Nebraska's 15 consecutive wins, 14 were against Division I opponents, breaking the school record for consecutive Division I wins (12) set in 1983.

The Huskers finished 11 wins shy of matching the longest win streak in school history set in 1983. The '83 squad kicked off the season with an impressive 26-0 record from March 7 to April 7.

Nebraska's offense was the story during the 15-game streak, as the Huskers hit .409 as a team with a .657 slugging percentage.

Junior first baseman Dan Johnson set the pace, hitting .513 with eight home runs and two doubles during that stretch, while Adam Shabala hit .512. Matt Hopper cranked out 12 of his 21 home runs during NU's 15-0 run.

NU-Creighton Draw Nation's Largest Crowd in 2000

The Huskers played in front of the nation's largest regular-season crowd in 2000. NU played a non-conference game against Creighton at Rosenblatt Stadium, the site of the CWS, and drew the fourth-largest regular-season college baseball crowd in NCAA history.

Nebraska defeated the Bluejays, 10-2, in front of a frenzied Husker crowd of 15,436. The attendance surpassed the season's previous best mark of 13,123 set in the Ole Miss at Mississippi State game in Starkville on April 15.

The mark was well shy of the all-time NCAA mark of 21,043 set in 1996 in the Texas Christian-Texas game at The Ballpark in Arlington.

Top Five Regular Season Attendance Dates

1.	21,043	TCU vs. Texas, May 4, 1996

3.	15,649	Texas vs. TCU, April 8, 1997
		The Ballpark in Arlington, Arlington, Texas
4.	15,436	Creighton vs. Nebraska, May 10, 2000
		Rosenblatt Stadium, Omaha, Neb.
5.	14,991	Mississippi State vs. Florida, April 22, 1989
		Dudy Noble Field, Starkville, Miss.

If The Buck Is A Rocking....

Coach Dave Van Horn has made it a priority to win home games since taking over as head coach at Nebraska. The results have been impressive, as the Huskers are 61-13 (.824) at Buck Beltzer Stadium under Van Horn. In 1999, Nebraska went 24-5 at home, sweeping No. 8 Texas at home and taking two of three from No. 23 Oklahoma State. During his NU career, Van Horn is 14-5 at home against ranked teams. In 2000 Nebraska was 24-4 at home, including two wins against No. 21 Fresno State. The Huskers strung together a stretch of 13 straight home wins before Wisconsin-Milwaukee snapped NU's streak on April 25.

Nobody has enjoyed the confines of Buck Beltzer more than freshman Matt Hopper. A native of Morrison, Colo., Hopper has hit 14 of his 21 home runs at the 'Buck, while hitting .440. Dan Johnson has also thrived on the home turf, hitting .417 and cranking 13 of his 21 home runs out of Buck Beltzer Stadium.

Husker base runners were nearly unstoppable at home, stealing 55 bases on 63 attempts (87 percent) in 2000.

Attendance has also seen great improvements over the past couple of seasons. In 1999, year the Huskers averaged 895 fans in 25 home dates, up 33 percent from the previous season. Husker fans continued to flock to Buck Beltzer Stadium in 2000, as Nebraska averaged 1,148 fans per date this year, a 48 percent increase from 1998.
